

MSCI-4200. IT in Project Management

Learning Outcomes

Last Updated: May 11, 2012

(PDC120416-5.6)

Learning Outcomes This is a sentence completion exercise. At the end of the course, the successful student will know and be able to:	Characteristics of a University of Windsor Graduate
A. Demonstrate through project work, case analysis, and exercises an understanding of key organizational, managerial, and technical constructs associated with IT project and program management and how it can be applied to practical situations.	A U of Windsor graduate will have the ability to demonstrate: A. the acquisition, application and integration of knowledge
B. Seek and synthesize information and knowledge that applies to managing IT system design and development projects.	B. research skills, including the ability to define problems and access, retrieve and evaluate information (information literacy)
C. Recognize when project management tools and techniques can be used in the analysis of a situation and select appropriate techniques to apply.	C. critical thinking and problem-solving skills
D. Use project management tools such as Microsoft Project and SAP project systems.	D. literacy and numeracy skills
E. N/A	E. responsible behaviour to self, others and society
F. Draft project update reports and memos.	F. interpersonal and communications skills
G. Work with a team and with clients to deliver projects	G. teamwork, and personal and group leadership skills
H.	H. creativity and aesthetic appreciation
I.	I. the ability and desire for continuous learning