Learning Outcomes
This is a sentence completion exercise.

At the end of the course, the successful student will know and be able to:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Characteristics of a University of Windsor Graduate</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A. the acquisition, application and integration of knowledge</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

A. Define complex problems, and state research questions that are interdisciplinary in nature.
- Analyze a complex problem from at least two disciplinary perspectives.
- Integrate conflicting insights from alternative disciplines.
- Reflect on how using an interdisciplinary approach has enlarged their understanding of problems.

B. Find and evaluate literature from at least two disciplines that relates to a research problem or question.

C. Justify the use of an interdisciplinary approach for a particular research question.
- Critically analyze disciplinary insights into research problem(s) and locate sources of conflict.

D. Integrate and differentiate their own ideas with those of others.

E. Recognize and analyze social and personal implications of contemporary issues.

F. Plan, implement, and document independent research projects.

G. Define complex problems, and state research questions that are interdisciplinary in nature.
- Analyze a complex problem from at least two disciplinary perspectives.
- Integrate conflicting insights from alternative disciplines.
- Reflect on how using an interdisciplinary approach has enlarged their understanding of problems.

H.

I. the ability and desire for continuous learning